Judge-

There was a specific order enjoining the mother's boyfriend/fiancée from being around the children. Maternal grandma was specifically ordered to supervise mother's possession as part of the 8/12 ruling, but I don't know if whether that supervision would continue was clear in the 8/20 ruling.

Best,

Taylor Mohr

Please send to all parties by and through their attorneys – until I've signed the Order allowing Withdrawal that would still be Ms. Mohr / Ms. Borserine:

Dear All:

Because I had a visiting judge presiding over the previous hearings in this case, I am requesting a record of all previous proceedings from the court reporter so I can come up to speed. In the meantime, my understanding is that boyfriend is not to be in the home with Mother or the children in this case per Visiting Judge orders and that MGMA is to supervise Mother's access? I need an answer to this question from all parties/attorneys.

Sincerely,

Judge Cyndi Wheless

I have the latest temporary orders and will efile them, they are signed by Taylor, Rachel and myself.

It was ordered for mother to have possession of the children, not supervised, and an injunction against mother's boyfriend from being around the children was put in place.

My understanding from Judge Hockett was that the boyfriend is enjoined from being anywhere near the kids. I have no understanding that mom must be supervised by the MGM.
